

THE VOSS ★ LAW FIRM, P.C.

Working Hard to Push Cases to a Jury

BILL VOSS KNOWS THE EASY WAY doesn't cut it. Often, the hard way is the only way. If his firm needs to do it the hard way—fully work up, finance and try a case—it will, no exceptions. While other firms avoid cases that seem too complex or complicated, his firm welcomes them. Voss recognizes that the most complicated cases yield the best results.

The firm's commitment to its clients and referring lawyers is that it will never shy away from hard work. Good trial lawyers realize big cases don't get resolved unless there is a firm trial setting, and trial settings aren't firm unless you make them so. Delay never benefits clients, so the lawyers at The Voss Law Firm work hard to push cases to a jury. Voss' firm is built around skilled practitioners who aggressively handle cases from file to trial. The lawyers at The Voss Law Firm are among the most aggressive and hard-working in the profession.

The Voss Law Firm handles complex cases involving bad faith insurance litigation, serious personal injury, Jones Act, mass tort and wrongful death. Voss personally excels in high-stakes commercial litigation, including contractual claims, fiduciary duty matters, shareholder or partnership disputes, employment issues and debt collection actions. In addition, Voss spends much of his time prosecuting claims for consumer fraud, in which corrupt sales organizations take advantage of investors.

THE VOSS REPUTATION: AGGRESSIVE, EXPERIENCED LITIGATORS

The firm's reputation as a team of intrepid litigators has caught the eye of many other law firms that may not be willing to go the distance with their cases, especially with matters involving commercial trial work and bad faith litigation. Voss says he is referred many of his cases from other law firms that would like their cases taken down to the courthouse for a verdict.

The Voss Law Firm works exclusively on a contingency-based fee, with the firm advancing all necessary expenses. "The bottom line is that at the end of the day we want our clients to acknowledge we have done an excellent job and have ultimately made them whole again, all while moving at light speed," Voss says.
